Corporate Datasheet
Backup / Disaster Recovery

In this era of uncertainty, a well-planned backup system and disaster recovery plan are essential components to minimizing risk exposure. And yet, most small to midsize businesses still rely on old tape backup systems or untested 'failover' solutions.

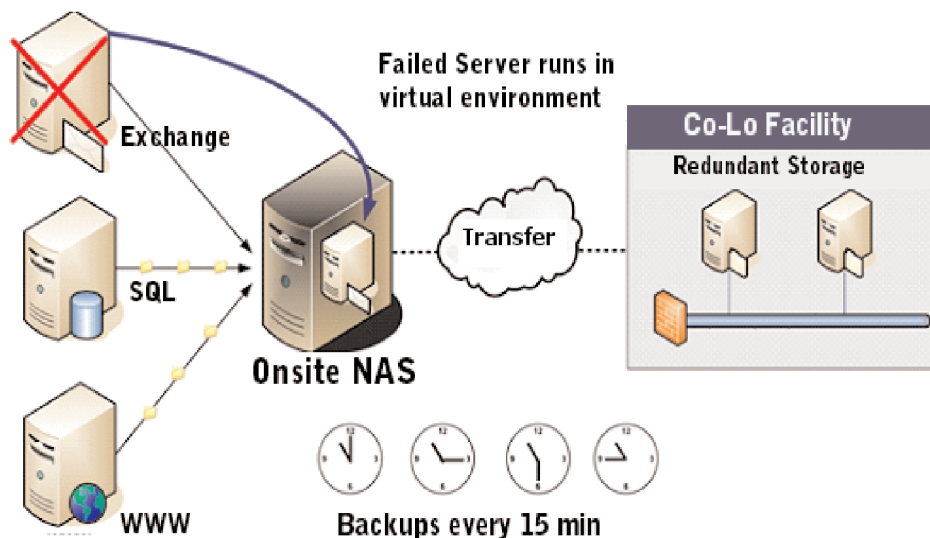

At The LCO Group, we have taken a hard look at the current backup and redundant system offerings on the market. We analyzed which solutions offered the best backup solution, highest availability and recovery, while maintaining reasonable cost and high value. We are proud to offer a plan that merges next-generation CDP (continuous data protection) technology with ease-of-use, quick-recovery time, and lowest cost of ownership.

Our Solution

We place a NAS device at the customer location, that does a raw, block level backup image of the server (all server types, including Exchange, SQL Server, File/Print, Domain Controllers, etc are supported). These backups run every fifteen minutes. In the event of a server failure, a 'virtual server', which is a duplicate, mirror copy of the original server, is brought online on the NAS device - allowing full server functionality and keeping your business functioning.

Additionally, an offsite replicant of the NAS device itself is done, to insure that a complete local site disaster does not bring you down - this NAS device can be shipped overnight from a colocation facility to any location of the customer's choosing.

This combination backup/high-availability solution can free you of the burden of tape backups, offer high-availability in the event of server failure, and provide offsite data storage.
